THE FIFTH SUNDAY OF LENT

30th March 2020

The Bishops of England and Wales have decided to cease having public liturgies in our churches and chapels. Since the Church finds herself in this difficult situation because of the Corona Virus, the obligation for the faithful to attend Mass on a Sunday or Holy Day of Obligation is removed until further notice.

Celebration of Mass.

Priests continue to celebrate Mass in the church without the presence of the people on a daily basis. The continuing celebration of Mass ensures that the people can join in Spiritual Communion with the priests of the Church.

An Act of Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that you are truly present in the Most Holy Sacrament.
I love you above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul.
Since I cannot today receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart.
I embrace You as being already there and unite myself wholly to You.
Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.
(St Alphonsus Liguori)

Pope Francis' prayer to the Virgin for protection

O Mary, you shine continuously on our journey as a sign of salvation and hope.

We entrust ourselves to you, Health of the Sick.

At the foot of the Cross you participated in Jesus' pain, with steadfast faith.

You, Salvation of the Roman People, know what we need.

We are certain that you will provide, so that, as you did at Cana of Galilee, joy and feasting might return after this moment of trial.

Help us, Mother of Divine Love,

to conform ourselves to the Father's will and to do what Jesus tells us:

He who took our sufferings upon Himself, and bore our sorrows to bring us, through the Cross, to the joy of the Resurrection.

Amen.

We seek refuge under your protection, O Holy Mother of God.

Do not despise our pleas — we who are put to the test — and deliver us from every danger, O glorious and blessed Virgin.

THE WORD

Year A • Psalter Week 1

The raising of Lazarus: fragment of a door in Isaak Cathedral in St. Petersburg, Russia

The raising of Lazarus is the last and greatest of the signs which Jesus gives. It is also the catalyst which sets in motion the process by which Jesus is brought to the cross.

Jesus knows this and declares that Lazarus' sickness will not end in death but in God's glory and the glorification of Jesus as God's Son. So Jesus does not set out immediately to cure Lazarus of his illness, as he is responding to the will of the Father: the purpose of the sign will not be the restoring of Lazarus to life, but rather that the disciples may come to true faith.

The disciples refer to Jesus as "Rabbi", which suggests that their belief in Jesus is still imperfect. Martha appears in the story as the sister who takes the initiative, going to confront Jesus and stating her belief in the general resurrection of the dead. Jesus tells her that the resurrection is not an event but a person, namely himself. Many scholars see Martha's response to Jesus' question – "Do you believe this?" – as the Johannine equivalent of Peter's confession in the other Gospel accounts. Mary, on the other hand, acts in accordance with the word of Jesus, going to him when he calls her, as the sheep responds to the voice of the shepherd.

In his prayer to the Father, Jesus repeats his statement that the purpose of the sign is to bring those who witness it to believe that Jesus is the one whom God has sent, and as a result, many of the Jews believe in him. ■

REFLECT

Jesus' gift of life to his dead friend is the event which sets off the plot to do away with him. In an additional twist of irony, the Jewish leaders will decide to assassinate Lazarus as well. This is the last of the readings which are given in this time when candidates are preparing to join our community as full members. In it we hear the promise of Jesus that he is, in himself, the resurrection and the life for his disciples. The raising of Lazarus will indeed lead to the death of Jesus: but for John the evangelist, the crucifixion is a triumph; it is the lifting up, the exaltation of Jesus in glory, it is his hour, the purpose for which he came. The Easter mystery is fulfilled on the cross.

Throughout the narrative, Jesus is presented in a highly emotional state, which is unusual in the Fourth Gospel. His grief and distress may be caused by the death of someone he loved, but also,

SAY

Yes, Lord, I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, the one who was to come into this world

(John 11:27)

LEARN

Details of the burial circumstances of Lazarus, such as the stone over the entrance, the cloths around him and over his face, correspond to those of the burial place of Jesus.

The differences are worth noting: the stone rolled away, the cloths on the ground, the face cloth rolled up in a separate place.

These suggest that the two events are radically different: Lazarus is restored to the life he had lost and will have to die again; the resurrection of Jesus is of a different order completely.

DO

Take a piece of cloth in your hands. Think about the sign of the raising of Lazarus. Make an act of faith in Jesus as the resurrection and the life for you.

perhaps, by frustration at the obtuseness of those who, like Thomas, keep on misunderstanding the real significance of what he says and does.

When we listen to, or read, the Scriptures, we are invited to make the Word of God relevant to our own faith, our own lives. Which character in the Gospel story do we most resemble? How can we become closer disciples of Jesus? ■

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON

Give me justice, O God, and plead my cause against a nation that is faithless.

From the deceitful and cunning rescue me,
for you, O God, are my strength.

FIRST READING

Ezekiel 37:12-14

A reading from the prophet Ezekiel.

The Lord says this: "I am now going to open your graves; I mean to raise you from your graves, my people, and lead you back to the soil of Israel. And you will know that I am the Lord, when I open your graves and raise you from your graves, my people. And I shall put my spirit in you, and you will live, and I shall resettle you on your own soil; and you will know that I, the Lord, have said and done this – it is the Lord who speaks."

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

PSALM

Psalm 129

Response:

With the Lord there is mercy
and fullness of redemption.

1. Out of the depths I cry to you, O Lord,
Lord, hear my voice!
O let your ears be attentive
to the voice of my pleading. (R.)
2. If you, O Lord, should mark our guilt,
Lord, who would survive?
But with you is found forgiveness:
for this we revere you. (R.)
3. My soul is waiting for the Lord,
I count on his word.
My soul is longing for the Lord
more than watchman for daybreak.
(Let the watchman count on daybreak and Israel on the Lord.) (R.)
4. Because with the Lord there is mercy
and fullness of redemption,
Israel indeed he will redeem
from all its iniquity. (R.)

SECOND READING

Romans 8:8-11

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Romans.

People who are interested only in unspiritual things can never be pleasing to God. Your interests, however, are not in the unspiritual, but in the spiritual, since the Spirit of God has made his home in you. In fact, unless you possessed the Spirit of Christ you would not belong to him. Though your body may be dead it is because of sin, but if Christ is in you then your spirit is life itself because you have been justified; and if the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead is living in you, then he who raised Jesus from the dead will give life to your own mortal bodies through his Spirit living in you.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Glory and praise to you, O Christ!
I am the resurrection and the life, says the Lord;
whoever believes in me will never die.
Glory and praise to you, O Christ!

GOSPEL

John 11:1-45

(For shorter form read between >>)

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John.

There was a man named Lazarus who lived in the village of Bethany with his two sisters, Mary and Martha, and he was ill. It was the same Mary, the sister of the sick man Lazarus, who anointed the Lord with ointment and wiped his feet with her hair. >The sisters sent this message to Jesus, "Lord, the man you love is ill." On receiving the message, Jesus said, "This sickness will end, not in death but in God's glory, and through it the Son of God will be glorified."

Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus; yet when he heard that Lazarus was ill he stayed where he was for two more days before saying to the disciples, "Let us go to Judaea." < The disciples said, "Rabbi, it is not long since the Jews wanted to stone you; are you going back again?" Jesus replied;

"Are there not twelve hours in the day?
A man can walk in the daytime without stumbling because he has the light of this world to see by;
but if he walks at night he stumbles,
because there is no light to guide him."

He said that and then added, "Our friend Lazarus is resting, I am going to wake him." The disciples said to him, "Lord, if he is able to rest he is sure to get better." The phrase Jesus used referred to the death of Lazarus, but they thought that by "rest" he meant "sleep", so Jesus put it plainly, "Lazarus is dead; and for your sake I am glad I was not there because now you will believe. But let us go to him." Then Thomas – known at the Twin – said to the other disciples, "Let us go too, and die with him."

> On arriving, Jesus found that Lazarus had been in the tomb for four days already.< Bethany is only about two miles from Jerusalem, and many Jews had come to Martha and Mary to sympathise with them over their brother. >When Martha heard that Jesus had come she went to meet him. Mary remained sitting in the house. Martha said to Jesus, "If you had been here, my brother would not have died, but I know that, even now, whatever you ask of God he will grant you." "Your brother" said Jesus to her "will rise again." Martha said, "I know he will rise again at the resurrection on the last day." Jesus said:

"I am the resurrection, and the life.
If anyone believes in me, even though he dies he will live,
and whoever lives and believes in me
will never die.
Do you believe this?"

"Yes, Lord," she said "I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, the one who was to come into this world." <

When she had said this, she went and called her sister Mary, saying in a low voice, "The Master is here and wants to see you." Hearing this, Mary got up quickly and went to him. Jesus had not yet come into the village; he was still at the place where Martha had met him. When the Jews who were in the house sympathising with Mary saw her get up so quickly and go out, they followed her, thinking that she was going to the tomb to weep there.

Mary went to Jesus, and as soon as she saw him she threw herself at his feet, saying, "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died." At the sight of her tears, and those of the Jews who followed her, >Jesus said in great distress, with a sigh that came straight from the heart, "Where have you put him?" They said, "Lord, come and see." Jesus wept; and the Jews said, "See how much he loved him!" But there were some who remarked, "He opened the eyes of the blind man, could he not have prevented this man's death?" Still sighing, Jesus reached the tomb: it was a cave with a stone to close the opening. Jesus said, "Take the stone away." Martha said to him, "Lord, by now he will smell; this is the fourth day." Jesus replied, "Have I not told you that if you believe you will see the glory of God?" So they took away the stone. Then Jesus lifted up his eyes and said:

"Father, I thank you for hearing my prayer.
I knew indeed that you always hear me.
But I speak
for the sake of all these who stand around me,
so that they may believe it was you who sent me."

When he had said this, he cried in a loud voice, "Lazarus, here! Come out!" The dead man came out, his feet and hands bound with bands of stuff and a cloth round his face. Jesus said to them "Unbind him, let him go free." Many of the Jews who had come to visit Mary and had seen what he did believed in him.

The Gospel of the Lord.<

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.
